SINFUL AMUSEMENTS.

Dr. Curry presented a report from the Committee on the State of the Church, relative to sinful amusements. The committee are of the opinion, both from memorials and representations by pastors and members of the Church, and from their own observation, that there is just cause for alanm and necessity for Ceneral Conference action, in order to arrest, if possible, practices which portend so much evil to the Church and the world. The general rules of the Church prohibit conversations not in the name of the Lord Jesus, and the singing of so against and reading of books that do not tend to so grand reading of books that do not tend to so grand reading to so amended as to include the buying, selling, or using of intexicating improve as a beverage; duncing, playing gates of chance, attending theatres, house for the church prohibit converges chools, or taking part in other invavements of an immoral tentence (Appelance).

A CLERGYMAN ASTONISHED.

Dr. Goode of Indiana, an elderly gentleman of austere countenance, said: "I am surprised and grieved that age and experience should come in to cast weight into that scale, to condemn, to defeat, and to take off the force of such piain, practical, and needful propositions to meet the emergencies. The Ten Commandments were complised in a few words, but they are specific. I challenge any man to object to any one of these specifications. He may do so elsewhere in his administration, but he dare not rise on this floor and object to any one. This is what we need. [Amen.] We need it for the ministry [amen.], for I have been under the painful necessity of bringing them to bear on the ministry, [Amen.] It is time for the Church to speak, and quot to be carried away by a few words of ridicule and satire. It is time for us to speak like men."

LEAVING IT TO THE CHURCHMEN'S CONSCIENCES LEAVING IT TO THE CHURCHMEN'S CONSCIENCES

LEAVING IT TO THE CHURCHMEN'S CONSCIENCES

Dr. William R. Clark of New England, another patriarch of the Church, said: "There is no man who looks with more solicitude on any tendency of the Church to indulge in sinful amuse ments than myself. I appreciate the feeling indicated in the remarks of Dr. Goode, and in the report of the committee. The question is, what is the proper way to meet those exigencies, and check this tendency in our Church. It seems to me a confession of our weakness when we resort to special legislation in matters of this kind. The spirit of the Church is already recorded in the Discipline, where she distinctly and emphatically expresses her condemnation of any amusement which cannot be taken in the name of the Lord. Something must be left to the consciences of individual members in this matter. The moment we begin to legislate specifically we cannot draw a line. We adopt legislation which cannot be enforced, will not be enforced in our Church, Mr. Chairman, in accordance with the spirit of that report. We are now understood as setting our face severely against singul amusements, and a member can be brought to trial now for anything that in the Judgment of a competent committee is interdicted by the Word of God.

A delegate remarked that billiards should be included in the forbidden list. They did as much harm to young men as dancing to young women.

Another brother said that dancing wouldn't hurt the young women if they only danced alone—without men.

First Delegate—But they don't care about dancing that way.

Dr. Moses Hill of Erie said that these specific provisions were not put in the Discipline by the fathers, because they believed amusement of every kind to be wrong. Now it was beginning to be believed that some of these indulgences were right. The fathers thought there was no more need of putting in a provision against dancing than a provision against murder. Christians did not dance when the present Discipline was framed. But dancing had now got reduced to a system, and a great many of anch members danced, and he was aware that to put it in the Discipline would make quite a little friction in society. Since we have come to the time when it is a question, even among Methodists, whether a little genteel dancing is wrong, it is time to fix it in some way. Our young people think that as other Christian churches dance, so may the Methodist Church dance. I ask ff, as legislators of the Church and as ministers, it would not be well for us, either by putting it in the Discipline or by a strong resolution, to give a decided expression, so that the people outside may know something of the opinion of the Church directly on the subject.

probably throw some light on the case:

During the late war Norris was a bitter stay-athome rebel. He opposed reconstruction this to so blackn words, he saw there was money it it. He suddenly changed his politics in 1868. In January, 1870, Gen. Terry, as commander of the military district of Georgia, removed the Sheriff of Warren county and appointed J. C Norris Sheriff. He was protected by a squad of Norris Sheriif. He was protected by a squad of United soldiers day and night for about three months, till arrested by the Post Commander for bribery and compounding of fedory.

Norris was constantly calling for soldiers to act as a Sheriif's posse in arresting alleged Ku-Klux. He jailed about a dozen citizens of the county, being himself ex-officio the jailor. With his military guard he had absolute control over his prisoners. One by one those arrested were released and at once appeared on friendly terms with Norris. Evidence was soon brought out that Norris had received about $12,000 as bribes from these persons. He was arrested by the Post Commander and when confronted with the evidence, sulfenly admitted that he had received $6,200, as stated in the evidence, but he defied any one to send him to Atlanta, saying that Gen. Terry and Gov. Bullock would sustain him. The Captain commanding the sub-district of Warren and other counties advised that Norris should not be confined. When asked why such advice, he said he believed that officers of the department staff were interested with Norris in the bribes taken, and that whoever arrested him would get the worst of it.

Nevertheless Norris was kept under guard by the Post Commander, and on the 8th of May, 1870, he was sent to Atlanta, with all the evidence in his case. Gen. Terry turned him over to civil authority. He was released on straw ball and, it is unnecessary to add, was never brought to trial.

The evidence showed that Norris, while taking United soldiers day and night for about thre it is unnecessary to add, was never brought to trial.

The evidence showed that Norris, while taking the bribes told his victims that Gen. Terry and she military odiacre had divested him as Sheriff, to pursue that course; and that if they would pay him certain sums in each case they should not be prosecuted, and under such circumstances the bribes were paid; How is that for military reconstruction in Georgia?

Should Norris be convicted upon his indictment, he might make a clean breast of all his villanles since he first saw there was money in reconstruction, and engaged in the bribe-taking business. Hence the courts of Warren county must be overawed, and Norris once more made to feel grateful for military aid.

Gov. Blair's Report on Robeson's Frauds.

From the Grand Enpids Times.

Gov. Blair is not a success as a white-washer. He was chairman of the committee to investigate Mr. Robeson the Secretary of the Navy. Gov. Blair is known to the people of Michigan, and they have confidence in his judgment and integrity. We hope the people of Michigan will listen to their old war Governor and to what he says about the Secretary of the Navy. And he says:

1. That the Secretary of the Navy took out of the Treasury $50,000 against the prohibition of a plain statute and gave it to the Secors, parties to whom the Government owed mothing.

2. That without any authority the Secretary of the Navy traded the hollers and engines of the steamer Tennessee for new ones, and paid John Roach therefor $500,000 in cash, and gave him also the old boilers and machinery, valued at $65,000. Gov. Blair says the Secretary had no authority for making such a trade. He might as well have traded the ship for another.

3. The ecretary of the Navy allowed $52,000 for the loss of the steamer Governor. Gov. Blair says the allowance was improper. The case should have been sent to the Court of Claims, where the Government has counsel. Gov. Blair says the was a groundless claim! Gov. Blair says further that the United States Navy, once the sounce of unnisted pride to the people, has been of late years rapidly degenerating into a cause for fear and apprehension. Sums of money have been expended, and still the navy shows no sign of improvement. Its situation furnishes the most unanswerable charge against the administration of the Secretary. It is barawled all over, and if the earliest the shame on its account."

THE RUN FOR THE DERBY STAKES. Cremorne the Winner by a Neck-All London on the Epsom Downs-Twenty-three Horses in the Race.

London, May 29.—The recurrence of the nual run for the Derby stakes has again been the great sensation to-day. Everybody able to get away from their business witnessed the race. At an early hour this morning the exodus of the population from the city to the Epsom Downs, where the race was run, commenced, and the roads leading thereto were crowded with vehicles of every description, which had been brought into requisition to convey the mass of umanity.

When the hour for the race approached the concourse of spectators was tremendous. Among the number were the most prominent Englishmen, together with many notable per-Englishmen, toke her with many notable persons from other countries, including Miss Clara Louise Kellogg, the American prima donna. The day opened beautifully, the weather throughout was fine, and the turf was in splendid condition. Twenty-three horses started, and the race was finely contested to the finish, the horses keeping well together. Cheer upon cheer broke the air as the different jockeys urged their steeds forward in hopes of being the first at the stand, and when Cremorne (the favorite) came in ahead, the enthuslasm was unparalleled.

The betring just previous to the start was 3 to 1 against Cremorne, 3 to 1 against the brother to Flurry, and 6 to 1 against Queen's Messenger.

Maidment was the jockey of Cremorne, Chaloner of the brother to Flurry, and French of Queen's Messenger. No accident whatever occurred to mar the general pleasure of the day.

All accounts agree that the crowd of spectators at the race for the Derby stakes to-day was the largest ever known. Among the distinguished persons who witnessed the contest were their Royal Highnesses the Duke of Edinburg and Prince Arthur. So closely was the race contested that Cremorne won by only a neck.

Fielding and Brilliant Mumng. Troy, May 2).—The second championship game between the Boston Red Stockings and the Troy Haymakers, which was played here this afternoon, resulted in a victory for the Reds by a score of 10 to 7. The game in the field was very unevenly played on both sides, one inning being distinguished by extra good fielding, and another by brilliant mufling. The errors were about equally balanced, but those of the Bostons were generally made when they could best afford to. No batting of much account was done on either side, and the game was won by the superior judgment and discipline of the Boston nine. Brains told in this instance, Harry Wright directed his men with excellent and uncring judgment, and saved his club from what seemed at one time sure defeat. Double plays were made by George Wright. Barnes, and Gould in the third, sixth and ninth innings. Wood of the Haymakers missed two chances for doubles. The betting at the start was 100 on Boston to 80 on the Haymakers, but after the first inning the friends of the Red Stockings were willing to give almost any odds. Reds by a score of 10 to 7. BULL PUPS IN YORKVILLE.

Mr. Bergh's Appeal to Justice Bixby-The

Rudeness of the Immense Justice Councily-Justice Bixby's Reprimand.
Roundsman Murphy and a few friends witnessed a fight between two bull pups in the basement of Henry P. & Wm. F. Mebuhr's liquor store, on the Boulevard, between Eighty-fourth and Eighty-fifth streets, on the evening of the 12th of February. The dogs belonged to Thomas McMahon and Wm. Barry of Harlem. Murphy was tried before the Police Commissioners, and was fined. Mr. Bergh summoned the Mebuhr brothers before Justice Eixby yesterday for allowing a bull-pup fight on their premises, thereby being guilty of cruelty to animals. The Mebuhrs were defended by Counsellor Rogers, and Mr. Bergh conducted the prosecution. The immense Justice Connoily heard of the legal proceedings, and went to the Yorkville Police Court to defend the Mebuhr brothers, who are his constituents. In the heat of his oration for the defence he turned toward Mr. Bergh and, with a flourish of his blackthorn, shouted:

"Bergh, I'll follow yon to the bitter end in this case. ore, on the Boulevard, between Eighty-fourth Bergh, I'll follow you to the bitter end in this you are a nutsance, and should be squelched. From the when I say on this leaven how you prosecuted

Mr. Bergh's benevolent face grew very long and wore an expression of alarm. Stepping up to the bench, he said:

Your Honor, I must be protected from such ruffianty remarks and violence. I am afraid to leave this court room with the threats of this fellow hanging over my head.

Justice Bixby, in a very dignified way, said that although the "big Judge" had sat on that bench, he must conduct himself with decorum. The brothers were held in $500 ball each.
